7TH DISTRICT COMMUNITY PROSECUTION UPDATE

National Night Out: The staff of the United States Attorney's Office participated in the events held in the Seventh District during National Night Out. In attendance at the community crime prevention event held in the 700 block of Brandywine, S.E., U.S. Attorney Kenneth L. Wainstein spoke about his commitment to the community prosecution effort in the Seventh District. Also present were Channing Phillips, Laura Cordero, Stephen Pfleger, Alex Shoaibi and Matt Miranda. In another part of the District, Assistant U.S. Attorney David Cora met with community members at the cookout and neighborhood festival held at the Fort Staunton Recreation Center. The U.S. Attorney's Office staff wish to thank all the Seventh District community for their hospitality. We also wish to convey that we are committed to working with you and with our law enforcement partners for the good of all 7D residents.

THE COURT REPORT

Metropolitan Police Department Officer Convicted of Assisting Others to Purchase and Smoke PCP (PSA 302; Case No. M-1534-04)

Evidence presented at trial established that in the early morning hours of July 7, 2002, a male friend of Joseph Jennifer, 38, a Metropolitan Police Department Officer assigned to the Fourth District, introduced him to two females, who then joined the men for the evening. Soon thereafter, in Jennifer's presence, the females began talking about their desire to purchase a "dipper," a term used for a cigarette dipped in liquid PCP. Following that discussion, Jennifer drove the group a short distance to Yuma Street, S.E., an area of the District of Columbia that he knew had a reputation for high levels of illegal drug activity and where the females directed him to stop. At the request of one of the females, he also provided $20 towards the purchase of the "dipper." One of the females then left the truck and returned a short time later with a dipper. Jennifer then drove the group to that female's apartment, located at 800 Southern Avenue, S.E., and was present in the apartment when the dipper was smoked by others. Later that morning, the female tenant of the apartment was found dead twelve stories below her balcony.

On August 11, 2004, Jennifer was convicted of Possession of Phencyclidine, known as PCP. He is scheduled to be sentenced on September 29, 2004, by D.C. Superior Court Judge Craig Iscoe. Jennifer faces up to 180 days in jail when sentenced. Assistant United States Attorneys Catherine Motz, Michael Brittin, and Steven R. Kaufman prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

Superior Court Jury Convicts Southeast Man of Second-Degree Murder While Armed After Two Mistrials (PSA 706; Case No. F-6988-02)

According to the government's evidence, on July 31, 2002, at about 6:20 p.m., Robert Williams, a foreperson on a local Maryland construction site, asked two of his co-workers to go out after work. Mr. Williams had been drinking that day and asked his co-worker to pull off at a Washington, D.C. exit to look for a bathroom. The three ended up in a parking lot shared by two apartment buildings located in the 4200 and 4300 blocks of 4th Street, S.E. The parking lot is a notorious open air drug market, referred to as the "Second Court." Once in the parking lot, Williams got out of the truck, urinated and was approached by defendant Ronald Gooden, 34, formerly of the 800 block of Chesapeake Street, S.E., and another individual.

Williams asked to buy $100 worth of crack cocaine, and bought all of Gooden's crack for $50. He then asked the other dealer to sell him another $50 worth of crack. Gooden became upset because the other dealer would not let Gooden "work" Williams, that is, to try to give him less than $100 of crack. During the ensuing argument, Williams called Gooden a "bitch", and Gooden pulled out a handgun and waved it in Williams's face. Williams pushed the gun aside and walked away. Gooden felt he was disrespected in his own court and had to save face. He walked up behind Williams and shot him once in the neck. The bullet severed the jugular and carotid arteries, resulting in the death of Robert Williams.

On August 27, 2004, a D.C. Superior Court jury convicted Gooden of Second Degree Murder While Armed and related gun offenses, in connection with the July 31, 2002, murder of Robert Williams of Delaware. The first two trials in this case ended in mistrials following hung juries. Gooden is scheduled to be sentenced by the D.C. Superior Court Judge Henry Greene on November 10, 2004. He faces a maximum sentence of sixty years of imprisonment. Assistant United States Attorneys David Deitch, Benjamin Friedman, John Interrante, and former Assistant United States Attorney Susan Osborne prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

N.E. District Man Pleads Guilty to Killing a Transgender Individual (PSA 705; Case No. F-5201-03)

During the plea proceeding, the government set forth its evidence establishing that on August 21, 2003, Derrick Lewis, 23, of the 800 block of 18th Street, N.E., shot Aaryn Marshall two times in the chest, while in a car in S.E., Washington, D.C. According to the proffer, Marshall was last seen with his cell phone on Lebaum Street, S.E., Washington, D.C., at approximately 1:15 a.m. A woman, in the 200 block of Malcolm X Avenue, S.E., heard gunshots at 2:36 a.m. Minutes later, a Seventh District officer arrived at that location and found the nude body of Marshall in the grassy area.

The investigation determined that five minutes after the sound of gunshots, at 2:41 a.m., Lewis used Marshall's cell phone to call a woman in the District of Columbia. That information led to another woman who informed the police that she permitted Lewis to use her car on August 20, 2003, at 11:30 p.m., and he did not return it until 3:15 a.m. on August 21, 2003. During the morning hours of August 21, 2003, the woman discovered small spots of blood on the passenger seat, passenger door, steering wheel, and gear shift. This same woman also discovered her .38 revolver missing from her Maryland house.

Forensic evidence further connected Lewis to the murder. The FBI DNA Analysis Unit determined that Marshall's DNA was recovered from the blood in the car. The FBI Trace Evidence Unit determined that a carpet fiber found on a pair of pants recovered in the 500 block of Mellon Street had the same microscopic characteristics, and optical properties, as the carpet fibers from the car. Finally, a MPD firearms examiner determined that two bullets recovered from Marshall's body, were the same type of bullets that could be fired from the missing .38 revolver.

On August 25, 2004, Lewis pled guilty in D.C. Superior Court to Manslaughter While Armed, stemming from the shooting death of a transgender individual. He is scheduled for sentencing on November 4, 2004, before the D.C. Superior Court Judge Robert I. Richter. Lewis faces up to 30 years, with a mandatory five years in prison when sentenced.

Assistant United States Attorney Blanche L. Bruce, and former Assistant United States Attorney Stephanie Pendell prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.
